The Town and Village of Clayton Joint Comprehensive Plan is the culmination of many years of work and community surveys and meetings by the municipal boards. The Town of Clayton began discussing updating the Town’s Comprehensive Plan in the early 1990s. While the process and content was being discussed the Town and Village began working on combining the two Planning Boards and Zoning Board of Appeals into a Joint Planning Board and a Joint Zoning Board of Appeals. That action brought about the notion of a Joint Comprehensive Plan. The Clayton Village Board and the Town Board directed the Joint Planning Board to develop a Joint Comprehensive Plan. This Plan replaces the 1966 Comprehensive Plan for the Town and Village. The work of the members of the Planning Board, Zoning Board of Appeals, Town Board and Village Board along with the Zoning Officers for the Town and Village is very much appreciated.

REVIEW

This Comprehensive Plan is intended to serve as an evolving document to be updated every five years.
SECTION 1  HISTORY OF CLAYTON

The Town of Clayton was organized from the Towns of Orleans and Lyme by an act of State Legislature on April 27, 1833. The name was chosen in honor of John M. Clayton, United States Senator from Delaware and a prominent Whig, a fitting political selection since most of the voters in the area were Whig themselves.

The Village of Clayton was incorporated on April 17, 1872 by a vote of the citizens, as provided in an act passed by the State Legislature, April 20, 1870. The vote stood 140 for and 51 against the assumption of corporate honors.

The first known name given to the area around the present day village was Weteringhera-Guentera, an Indian term for “Fallen Fort”, referring to an ancient fort on the banks of French Creek captured from the Algonquin tribe by the Iroquois. In the early 1820's the area around French Creek Bay was being settled by the French. In 1823 the Post Office and the Village was called Cornelia. In 1831 they were both changed to Clayton. By 1835 the Village consisted of 93 buildings and 426 people.

The other major settlement in the Town is the Hamlet of Depauville, originally called Cat Fish Falls. The hamlet is located in a valley along the Chaumont river. The area was being settled by 1816 utilizing the Chaumont River as its navigable waterway for transportation of timber, goods and people.

Due to its favorable positioning on the St. Lawrence River and an ample supply of lumber, the first major industry in Clayton was timber. Trees were lashed together to form rafts and then sent down the St. Lawrence River to Montreal and surrounding areas. There, the logs were cut into usable lumber. Depauville also had a substantial lumbering industry. The local economy was dominated by this industry until the railroad made its way to the North Country in the 1870's.

Its location on the river and supply of lumber was a natural for the shipbuilding industry. Simon Johnston owned one of the prominent shipyards in the Village. The Town Hall is located on the site of his shipyard. Clayton is also known as the home of the St. Lawrence Skiff. These skiffs were first built as fishing guide boats starting around 1868.
In 1873, the railroad was brought to Clayton and with it came people seeking time away from the city life. As a result, hotels, restaurants, boat livery's, fishing guides and tourist related services began to flourish and a new industry was born, tourism. Grindstone, Picton, Bluff, Murray and other smaller islands began to become settled by local residents and tourists. Luxury hotels were built to accommodate this influx of vacationers: The Windsor, The Walton, The Riverview, The Hubbard House, The Frontenac on Round Island, The Clayton Hotel and the Herald House. The Clayton Hotel is now O'Briens and the Herald House is the TI Inn: all of the other old hotels have either burned or were torn down. The influx of people during this period brought money, built houses and created an increase in small privately owned boats. The small boat trade and repair business quickly became lucrative for many entrepreneurs. This period of growth lasted until the advent of the car as a family vehicle. It became easier to travel were ever you wanted and not just where the train would take you.

There has been a resurgence of the boat trade and repair in the last twenty years due to increases in boating as a recreation, boat owners and the population of Clayton, both residential and seasonal.

Agriculture was an important industry in the Town. The number of active farms has been steadily decreasing, a trend that is occurring all across the State and County.

The Town has a history of mining that includes quarries on Picton and Grindstone Islands that were active in the mid 1800’s. There are a number of active sand and gravel operations located on County Route 4, the Crystal Springs Road.

Like any other community over the last 177 years, Clayton has undergone many social and economic changes. Today, Clayton remains as a reflection of the small shops and restaurants, recreational opportunities and marinas that existed in the early years.
2.1 Population: Town and Village of Clayton

The population of the Town has been steadily increasing since 1960, while the Village's population declined from 1960 to 1980. The trend of the Town's population growing faster than the Village's follows the national trend of people moving out of cities and villages to rural areas. While the dramatic increase from 1980 to 1990 can be directly connected to a 100 unit military housing development in the Village, the overall growth in population from 1960 to present can be at least partially attributed to new residential housing being developed, especially along the St. Lawrence River. The U.S. Census Bureau has estimated the population for the Town, including the Village, in 1998 at 4,595.
The seasonal population can be estimated by applying the average family size from the 1990 Census. The table below indicates an estimated increase of 2,836 people during the summer. This figure does not include people vacationing in the area.

2.2 Hamlet of Depauville

Within the Town of Clayton is the Hamlet of Depauville. This area has a substantial population and its own character. As such, Depauville has been named a Census Designated Place for the 2000 Census by the US Census Bureau. This designation will allow the U.S. Census Bureau to disseminate statistical information about Depauville in the same manner as they do for villages.

The population below was taken from Jefferson County Department of Planning estimates using U.S. Census Bureau block information. As such, some of the population included in this estimate is not necessarily located within the immediate Hamlet area.

1980 Estimated Hamlet of Depauville Population - 330
1990 Estimated Hamlet of Depauville Population - 291
2.3 Population and Land Area Characteristics

The population density of the Village and Town of Clayton has increased substantially since 1980. The major cause for the increase is the location of a 100 unit Army housing complex in the Village. In the mid 1980's the 10th Mountain Division was reactivated and located at Fort Drum, approximately 20 miles from Clayton.

PART TWO - COMMUNITY SURVEYS

The Town and Village of Clayton have conducted surveys over the years to help officials direct the development and growth of the Clayton area. These surveys provided the people and tourists of Clayton the opportunity to express their views about the future of Clayton. The results of these surveys will be the basis for the Goals of this Comprehensive Plan.

SECTION 1 VILLAGE OF CLAYTON - WATERFRONT IMAGE ASSESSMENT STUDY, (Summer 1982)

In the summer of 1982 the Village of Clayton utilizing the resources of the St. Lawrence-Eastern Ontario Commission and the School of Landscape Architecture, S.U.N.Y. at Syracuse hired a graduate intern to complete a Waterfront Image Assessment.

The objectives were:

a) To assess the current image and resources of the Village as perceived from interviews and filed inventory.

b) To analyze constraints to and opportunities for future Village image enhancement.

c) To develop alternative scenarios for future image enhancement.

d) To test these scenarios for acceptability to permanent residential, seasonal residential and day tourist populations.
As part of the Study, 30 people covering a cross section of the community were interviewed. Below is their response when given a list of specific aspects of the visual quality of Clayton.

A major part of this study was to give people the opportunity to give their opinions on design concepts for specific areas. Permanent and seasonal residents were mailed out surveys and day tourists were interviewed on Labor Day weekend. A total of 379 people responded to the survey: 212 permanent residents, 29 seasonal residents, and 138 day tourists.

FRINK PARK:

A. no change;

B. proposal featuring exposed granite; and

C. a proposal featuring a retaining wall lookout area.

There was a clear consensus for change with Option B being favored by 54%.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE:

D. no change;
E. a proposal incorporating large planters breaking up the parking area; and
F. a proposal for a pedestrian mall.

The overall consensus was for a change. Permanent residents were split between no change and Option E, with the cost being a factor. Overall, Option E was preferred by 50%.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE - NO UTILITIES:

G. no change;
H. Removal of overhead utilities only;
I. Removal of overhead utilities and inclusion of large planters; and
J. Removal of overhead utilities and inclusion of a pedestrian mall.

Permanent and seasonal residents were split between Options G and I, with cost being the major factor in choosing G. Day Tourists preferred I.

CENTENNIAL PARK:

K. No change and
L. A floating breakwater and docking facility.

Permanent residents favored the no change option, expressing a concern for the loss of swimming access.

Seasonal and day visitors favored the dock proposal.
THE BOARDWALK:

M. No change; and
N. A boardwalk along the waterfront.

The boardwalk option was the clear choice, 76%, of all three groups surveyed.

SECTION 2  VILLAGE (1992)

In 1992, the Village of Clayton circulated a visual preference survey to the residents of the village. Of the people returning the survey, the largest percentage was between the ages of 30 and 64 with the 64+ age group following.

Areas of the Village that were liked:
- Small Town
- River Scenery
- The people/ friendliness

- Lack of variety in grocery stores
- Lack of municipal trash collection
- No Mall

Things needed in the area:
- Docking facilities
- Restaurants/hotel/motel
- Develop waterfront
- Commercial development
- Events/activities (all ages)
- Smokeless industries
The Town Board, Village Board, Joint Planning and Zoning Boards were given a survey in 1999 to gauge their opinions on the Community. These results will assist in developing Goals for the Clayton Comprehensive Plan.

1) What will your community look like in the future if current development trends continue?

The feeling from the surveys was that there would not be a drastic change from what Clayton looks like now. There would be a continued increase in residential development.

2) Is there a strong need for economic revitalization in the community?

The majority of respondents stated that there is a need.

Professional community development talent and a master plan is a good starting point for moderate yet sustained revitalization.

Local industry or manufacturing that will give residents the chance at good year round employment with good benefits.

3) Are there competing ideas about the location of future development in the community?

There does not seem to be major competing ideas.

There are common goals to achieve but also some competition as to how to do this.

4) What types of development are desirable for your community?

Tourism Related
Resort (Hotel, Marina associated activities)
Light industry
Waterfront (cruise ship and tourism) public dockage
Year round activities.
Manufacturing, the area has always responded well by supplying labor, utilities, and administrative needs.
5) Is the community experiencing rapid or haphazard growth?

The consensus is that there is not rapid or haphazard growth occurring. There is progressive growth.

6) Is there a need for housing? What types?

Senior Housing and current housing are in line with needs. With the increased economy, individual homes could be encouraged with a mix of multi-dwelling needed for lower wage earners.

There is a need for Hotel, Motel, Bed and Breakfast accommodations.

7) Is strip development destroying the special character of your community?

The majority stated that this is not occurring.

8) Are the open space resources of the community being developed or preserved?

A majority of the respondents stated that they felt that the open space resources are being developed and preserved.

9) Is there access to natural and recreational resources in your community?

The respondents overwhelmingly felt that there is access but that this is an area that needs to be continually reviewed.

10) Are new buildings conforming to the architectural character of your community?

The general opinion of the respondents is yes but there is a need to study this issue.

11) Are there abandoned industrial sites which would be desirable to develop to enhance waterfront or downtown areas?

In 1992 the Clayton Chamber of Commerce performed its own survey about the tourism and informational packets sent out. The predominant age group answering this survey was the 65+ age group. This survey was not sent to residents but to travelers to the area. It is interesting as an information tool providing a different point of view.

There was an even split of people who visited Clayton for a long vacation and those who went for just a few days. Half of the surveys received indicated they decided to go to Clayton while the other half went somewhere else.

Of the people who visited Clayton, 24% were most interested in staying in moderately priced accommodations. Only 2% of the people returning the survey were looking for a luxurious hotel.

The survey also questioned people about the reasons that they travel to Clayton. The most common response was to auto tour the area. This was followed (in order) by fishing with one’s own boat, swimming/diving, use of nature trails, dock fishing, picnicking and hiking. Overall, people felt that their vacation was not strictly planned but rather done on a spontaneous basis depending upon what they felt like doing each day. “Package Vacations” were not seen as being either widely used or liked by the respondents.

Overall, the people of Clayton and the tourists seem to like the “small town” feel of Clayton. They are happy and impressed with the services and facilities available, but at the same time they would like to see more commercial and waterfront development. Also, development of the Frink Park property was identified as an area in need of development. With a few additions to the commercial aspect of Clayton while keeping the “small town” feeling, the needs of the community could easily be met.
PART THREE - GOALS & STRATEGIES

A. GOAL: Maintain Small Town/Village/Hamlet atmosphere.

STRATEGIES:

1. Improve sidewalks and streets to allow for better and easier pedestrian traffic.

2. Amend zoning to allow for small business in residential areas.
